
O&O and CA announce OEM Agreement

CA Deutschland GmbH of Darmstadt, Germany, and O&O Software GmbH of Berlin, Germany have reached an OEM Agreement which enables O&O to integrate the products of CA into its own portfolio. For the future, this means that selected O&O products will also come equipped with one of the leading security solutions for Windows PCs.

Berlin, October 29, 2007 – Through its cooperation with CA, O&O Software GmbH, the leading manufacturer of system tools for Microsoft Windows, will extend its product portfolio to cover the whole spectrum of security solutions for PCs.

"With CA, not only have we gained a partner that counts as one of the largest software manufacturers in the world, but one that also offers leading technology in the Windows security field", said Olaf Kehrer, Managing Director of O&O Software GmbH. "The products fit perfectly to our range and provide added value for our customers."

"We are pleased to work with O&O to provide their customers with world-class Internet security software," said George Kafkarkou, Senior Vice President, CA Home/Small Office. "Our newly released 2008 Home/Home Office Internet security solutions are a natural complement to O&O's desktop utility product line and will help enhance their customers' overall PC experience."

Since last year, O&O has also been addressing the area of data security with O&O DiskImage, which will now be supplemented by the CA product range. Initially, O&O products will be bundled with CA Anti-Virus and CA Internet Security Suite. All products are available both through retailers and as ESD versions.
